```
1: public class Point {
           int x;
 3:
           int y;
 4:
 5:
           /* constructor
 6:
            * special method called when we create
           * a Point object using the new operator */
public Point(int initialX, int initialY) {
 7:
 8:
                \underline{\underline{x}} = \underline{initialX};
 9:
                 \overline{\underline{y}} = \overline{\text{initialY}};
10:
11:
12: }
                                          Pout pl = new Pout (10,20)
                                                                      20
```